DECLARE MARTIAL LAW IN SARAYEVO

To Quell Serious Anti-Servian Outbreak

AS RESULT OF MURDER

Official Account of the Assassination of Royal Couple Published Yesterday—Mobs Wreck and Rob Stores.

Sarayevo, June 29.—A bomb thrown by a youth standing on the corner of the main street here was the signal this morning for a serious anti-Servian outbreak which the troops found considerable difficulty in quelling. Martial law immediately was declared.

The only damage done by the bomb was a slight injury to a passing Mussulman. The rougher element, joined by a number of Croatian students, paraded along the streets stoning the windows of Servian shops, clubs, schools and houses and looting the interiors. The manifestants carried a portrait of the Emperor Francis-Joseph at their head. They sang the Austrian National anthem and attacked everything Servian until they were confronted by an overwhelming force of soldiers.

Martial law was proclaimed by beat of drum and the posting of placards. All the chief points of the city were occupied by troops.

Death masks of the archduke and the duchess were taken today and the bodies placed on a catafalque in the chapel of the palace and surrounded by a magnificent display of wreaths and other floral emblems from all parts of the country.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy when Gavrio Prinzip, the young assassin fired the fatal shots, Count Francis Von Harrach was standing on the footboard of the car acting as a shield to the occupants, of whom he had constituted himself the special body-guard, after the bomb had been thrown a short time before by Nedeljo Gabrinovics. The archduke was joking with the Count about his precautions when the shots rang out.

Assassin's Aim True.

The aim of the assassin was so true that each of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound. Neither the Archduke nor the Duchess uttered a sound, but a moment afterward it was seen that they had been hit.

Lieut. Col. Erik Merizzi, who had been wounded by the bomb in the first attack, today was pronounced out of danger while the injury sustained by Count Von Boos-Waldeck is said to be insignificant.

Gabrinovics, it was learned today, had been expelled from Sarayevo two years ago but had been recently permitted to return through the intervention of a Socialist member of the Bosnian diet.

The official account of the assassination issued today, after stating that the deadly effect of the murderer's bullets was explained by the extreme closeness of the range, proceeds.

"The Duchess of Hohenburg collapsed against her husband and Field Marshal Oskar Potiorek thought she had merely fainted from the shock. He was strengthened in this belief by the fact that the Archduke and Duchess exchanged a few words in a low voice.

"It was not until the field marshal turned around after giving instructions to the chauffeur to proceed to the governor's palace that he noted the Archduke, while still sitting quietly upright, had his open mouth full of blood.

"When the car stopped before the palace the Duchess was unconscious. After she had been lifted from the car the Archduke collapsed in the seat.

"The Archduke died about a quarter of an hour afterward and a few minutes later the Duchess expired without either of them regaining consciousness."

A report was current here today that the Archduke's last words to his wife were, "Sophia, live for our children."

Message of Condolence.

Washington, June 29.—President Wilson today sent the following message of condolence to the Emperor of Austria-Hungary:

"Deeply shocked at the atrocious murder of His Imperial and Royal Highness Archduke Francis Ferdinand and consort at an assassin's hands. I extend to Your Majesty, to the royal family, and to the government of Austria-Hungary the sincere condolences of the government and people of the United States, and an expression of my own profound sympathy."

Russian Press Comment.

St. Petersburg, June 29.—The comments of the Russian press today on the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, reflect the bitterness of the anti-Austrian sentiment of the Russian nation. Some of the newspapers refer to the assassination as "an opportunity for Austria to change her course." and they declare that the murdered Archduke "bore in himself the spark which was kindling an European conflagration."

Will Attend Funeral.

London, June 29.—The Duke of Teck, accompanied by a small military mission, will represent King George at the funeral of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

Emperor to Vienna.

Ischl, June 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph, accompanied by his suite, started for Vienna at 6 o'clock this morning.

MEDIATION SITUATION IS IN MOST COMPLEX STATE

Few Visible Signs of Progress in Pacification of Mexico—Widening Breach Between Villa and Carranza and Weak Resistance Offered by Huerta Causes Apprehension That Conquest of Mexico City is Likely While Mediation is in Session.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 29.—Mediation tonight is in a most complex state. Its principals are undecided whether to adjourn formally or to recess and renew their efforts through the American government toward bringing the Constitutionalists and Huerta delegates into conference for the settlement of Mexico's internal problems. While the signing of the series of protocols covering various phases of the international situation has brought forth confident expressions from some quarters here that mediation has been a success, skepticism has arisen among others vitally connected with the proceedings as to whether anything of value actually has been accomplished.

That war has been averted is generally admitted, but of the actual pacification of Mexico, few here see any visible signs of progress.

The protocols already signed set forth in effect the conditions under which the United States will recognize a new government in Mexico. Everything, however, is conditioned on the establishment of a provisional government which must be the result of an agreement between the two warring factions. These have not yet been brought together. Some of the mediators doubt if they ever will be.

Minister Naon Optimistic.

Minister Naon, who is believed to be on intimate terms with the Constitutionalists, as he recently has been in private and secret communication with their representatives in Washington professes optimism. Minister Suarez and Ambassador Dagama are understood to be rather skeptical. The Huerta delegates are noncommital.

In the meantime the widening breach between Carranza and Villa and the weak resistance being offered by the Huerta troops to the Constitutionalist advance, are producing grave apprehension that a military conquest of Mexico City is likely while mediation is in session and perhaps will provoke the international controversy anew.

Tomorrow Ambassador Dagama will return from a brief vacation. Minister Suarez made it clear today that he had remained here merely to await Mr. Dagama's return and not because he thought it was his duty to wait for the Constitutionalist delegates. The mediators are disposed to keep themselves free from entanglement in Mexico's internal affairs. The answer to the note sent by the mediators to Carranza last Monday is expected tomorrow.

The mediators have not yet obtained an explicit agreement between the American and Huerta delegates, on the language of the protocol relating to the future evacuation of Vera Cruz by American troops. Without it the international controversy would not be completely settled.

Situation Unsettled.

Washington, June 29.—In Washington tonight mediation and the Mexican revolution situation both appeared to be in a somewhat unsettled state.

Agents of Gen. Carranza conferred frequently. Rafael Zubaran, chief agent in Washington, left tonight for New York on a secret mission. Luis Cabrera, chief Constitutionalist exponent of the proposed conferences with Huerta and American representatives by commissioners from Carranza, also announced he might go to New York in a few days.

Carranza's report denied any first hand knowledge of reports that Villa had withdrawn with his army from Zacatecas to Torreon, or of dispatches from the border indicating that the breach between Villa and Carranza had widened. It was apparent, however, that there was considerable uneasiness among the Constitutionalists. Alfredo Breceda, after a conference with Mr. Zuzaran and Mr. Cabrera, telegraphed to Gen. Carranza for information as to developments within the Constitutionalist ranks. He said tonight that he had received no reply.

Wilson Will Not Talk.

Administration leaders would not discuss recent developments. President Wilson told callers that he still held to his determination not to talk about Mexico. Secretary Bryan also was silent.

Louis Cabrera today declared he believed Gen. Carranza would send delegates to the proposed conferences to consider the plans for a provisional government. He said he thought Gen. Carranza would have consulted his generals, who were parties to the plan of Guadaloupe, within a day or two and that a definite answer would be received soon afterward.

Washington government officials as well as Constitutionalist agents here, expressed interest in the report from Mexico City that Sir Lionel Carden had advised British subjects to leave Mexico. Both, however, explained this action as a measure of safety resultant from the continued approach of the revolutionary armies upon Mexico City and the general uneasiness over the fact that the mediation conference at Niagara Falls has failed thus far to bring about the composition of Mexican affairs.

Fernando Iglesias, chief of the Liberal party in Mexico, and his associate, Leopoldo Hurdato, who have been in Washington several days, said tonight they would remain here awaiting word from Gen. Carranza as to what he intends to do with respect to mediation. Mr. Iglesias, who usually has been referred to as Calderon, explained that his family name was Iglesias. He said Carranza had selected him as a delegate to the proposed informal consultation over Mexican affairs if it is to be held.

Urge Participation.

Belief prevailing in some quarters here that Gen. Carranza eventually would decide to send mediation delegates was said to be due to the fact that such a course had been strongly recommended to him by some of his advisers here.

One of the arguments presented to Gen. Carranza was that an informal discussion between his delegates and those of Huerta could do no harm to his cause even if no final agreement of any sort should be reached. In the event there had been no yielding by the Huerta delegates, it was argued the military movements could be carried forward with undiminished vigor. It also was pointed out that arguments presented by the Constitutionalist representatives in conversational form during an informal conference would not be so likely to cause embarrassment or misinterpretation in any quarter as would any declarations of purpose which might be given out as a result of formal communications. In the third place, it was suggested that the meeting between Carranza's delegates and those of Huerta, even if not conclusive, of definite results might lay the basis for a platform on which Mexico's internal affairs could be adjusted.

WILL ASK FOUR OTHER STATES TO CO-OPERATE

In State Representation at San Francisco

N. C. Commission, Board of Agriculture and Representatives of Railroads Hold Long Conference—Man in Field.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 29.—There was a protracted conference this afternoon of the members of the North Carolina commission on representation for this State at the Panama-Pacific Exposition next year, with members of the state Board of Agriculture and the representatives of the leading railroads operating in the State, the special purpose of the conference being to agree upon some concerted action as to the representation that the State shall have at the great exposition.

There was a great deal of discussion of the whole situation that finally developed into the adoption of a resolution offered by Commissioner T. S. Powell, of Asheville, that the States of Alabama, South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia be visited by representatives of the North Carolina commission especially for the purpose of interesting them in some plan of co-operation, most especially through bringing about a grouping of the different States mentioned in their exhibits in Agricultural palace.

The commission decided to set about at once stirring up public sentiment for a complete representation of the State and the raising of funds for the purpose. To this end a man especially fitted for the work is to be put in the field at once to go throughout the State working up the sentiment and securing pledges of financial support. Later, with the resources all marshaled for the exhibits, the commission will bring pressure to bear in the next session of the legislature to make some creditable appro zBkUHkIR k- shrdlu cmfwyp vbgkgk

There is also a plan to have co-operation as to exhibits by the railroad companies, this co-operation to extend to both the Southeastern States and the railroads operating in this group. Florida will not be asked to co-operate for the reason that she already has arranged for a full fledged State building of her own.

It was decided to send Mr. Alf Thompson, of Raleigh, to Virginia; Mr. Leonard Tufts, to Alabama; J. A. Brown to South Carolina, and T. S. Powell, of Asheville, to Georgia, to take up with the administrations of these States the question of co-operating in the installation of exhibits at the exposition.

WILLIAM C. WALTERS IS ORDERED RELEASED.

Alleged Kidnaper Released by Louisiana Supreme Court.

New Orleans, June 29.—Holding invalid the law under which William C. Walters was recently convicted at Opelousas, La., of kidnaping young Robert Dunbar of that place in April, 1912, the Louisiana Supreme Court today ordered Walters released. He had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

WAGE WAR ON RATS IN SOUTHERN PORT

New Orleans Begins Official Clean-Up Today.

TO PREVENT PLAGUE

New Orleans, June 29.—With the introduction of a joint resolution in the two houses of the general assembly at Baton Rouge today authorizing the governor to borrow $150,000 to be expended in the fight on the bubonic plague here, and the inauguration of a rigid quarantine of the infected district this afternoon by local authorities, preliminary steps toward stamping out the contagion were well advanced.

The quarantine established by city health authorities around four blocks in the vicinity of the Industrial Home of the Volunteers of America, where the two cases so far reported were discovered is backed by armed guards. Only bread-winners will be allowed ingress or egress to the quarantined district, which includes some of the large French markets, and a number of commission and wholesale houses. Those permitted to cross the dead line must report three times a day for inspection.

Situation Well in Hand.

While it is now believed here that the situation is well in hand, stringent precautionary measures will be taken. A campaign for the extermination of rats in the city will begin tomorrow morning.

Federal authorities will take part in the fight against the disease. Surgeon General Rupert Blue, of the public health service, and two experts from Washington, will come here to aid the local authorities.

Health departments of a number of Southern States have telegraphed Dr. Dowling, State health officer, proferring assistance.

So far only two cases of plague have been reported, one death resulting. Alarm was caused today by reports of the discovery of two more cases in a different part of the city. The reports proved to be erroneous.

Surgeon Blue to Scene.

Washington, June 29.—Surgeon General Blue, of the public health service, will go to New Orleans to take charge of the campaign there against bubonic plague. One death and one other case have been reported.

After receipt of telegrams today from Oscar Dowling, president of the Louisiana board of health, the Treasury Department ordered the Surgeon General to take charge of the situation. Dowling reported bacteriological confirmation of the two cases. The public health service, however, will make its own examination.

Surgeon General Blue said today that neither the city of New Orleans, nor the territory surrounding was in any danger, but that it was advisable that the Federal government take sharp measures. Apparatus for rat catching and fumigation are being sent to New Orleans and a corps of experts in plague eradication including Surgeon Creel, of the public health service will carry out the Surgeon General's plans.

As a precautionary measure to prevent spread of the infection by shipping Surgeon General Blue today sent warnings to health authorities of the Atlantic coast States, and to those of the Mississippi States as far north as Iowa, suggesting that they take up the work of rodent eradication actively.

Municipal health officials who have asked for and are being furnished with advice. The most approved methodse to prevent the spread of the infection will be put in force immediately at New Orleans.

Quarantine Against Ports.

New York, June 29.—Health Officer of the port, Joseph J. O'Connell, tonight declared quarantine against New Orleans on receipt of advices that several cases of the bubonic plague had been discovered in that city. Similar action was taken with regard to Santiago de Cuba, where cases of the plague were reported.

The health officer notified steamship companies having vessels en route from New Orleans to New York to direct the captains by wireless to report to him on arrival for visitation, inspection and fumigation. Ships from Santiago de Cuba will be similarly treated.

Besides New Orleans and Santiago, the plague is said to have been prevalent in Havana for some months, 25 cases having been reported in that city.

Texas Quarantines.

Austin, Texas, June 29.—Instructions to State port officials to observe the regular bubonic quarantine restrictions against New Orleans and all foreign ports which may have bubonic infection were issued today by State Health Officer Ralph Steiner.

Must Have "Rat Guards."

Mobile, Ala., June 29.—Dr. Charles A. Mohr, city health officer of Mobile, today was delegated by the Alabama State health officer, Dr. W. H. Sanders, to visit New Orleans, and assist in preventing the spread of bubonic plague on the gulf coast. Vessels from New Orleans will not be allowed to dock here without "rat guards" on all hawsers.

WOLGAST BREAKS ARM.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 29.—Ad Wolgast broke his arm today, thus halting the Rivers-Wolgast 20-round match which was to have taken place here July 4th. He will be forced to remain idle two or three months before he can fight again.

VILLA-CARRANZA ELEMENTS TO MEET

Last Effort to Be Made to Bring Two Together

VILLA IS AT TORREON

Arrangements Have Been Completed for Dissatisfied General to Meet Representatives of Constitutionalist Chief.

El Paso, Texas, June 29.—Arrangements have been completed for a conference this week between Gen. Villa and representatives of Gen. Carranza, according to information from Torreon. Villa arrived at Torreon today from Zacatecas. Announcement of the conference was received here as partly explaining Villa's abandonment of his campaign to the south.

The general impression that the relations between the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief and his northern zone commander had reached a breaking point was replaced with the expressed belief that a last effort will be made to bring the two together on some compromise.

In the meantime the Carranza and Villa constituents have reached a point of coldness which has been increased by the frequent utterances of Alfredo Breceda, Carranza's agent, and the silence of the Villa representations.

The more outspoken of Villa's adherents began discussion today of an open breach in the Constitutionalist government. They asserted that Villa would appoint a cabinet and name representatives to Washington and border points in the United States.

This, however, was not admitted by any of Villa's appointed agents, who assumed a policy of absolute silence regarding the situation.

It was learned that Villa agents had begun negotiations with some unnamed agent in Washington. The Carranza men, who, it was learned, have not been venturing over the Mexican side of the line at this point, had nothing to say.

EAST PITTSBURG HELD UNDER MILITIA CONTROL.

The troopers were called out when th esheriff's deputies foun dthemselves unable to cope with the strikers' pickets who attempted to prevent men fro mentering the Westinghoues Electric & Manufacturing Company's works. Disorder also attended the second walkout of 200 employes of the Union Switch & Signal Company in Swissvale.

CHAS. MELLEN AND OTHERS INDICTED

On Various Charges Connected With Railroad

NEVER BEEN OPERATED

Cambridge, Mass., June 29.—Eighteen persons, including Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine Railroad companies; Frederick S. Moseley, of F. S. Moseley & Company, Boston, brokers, the late Ralph D. Gillett, of Westfield, and the investment committees of two savings banks of this city, were indicted today by the Middelesex county grand jury on various charges in connection with the financing of the Hampden Railroad from Bondsville to Springfield. Mr. Gillett was president of the Hampden Railroad.

The railroad was built a year ago as a link to connect the Central Massachusetts division of the Boston & Maine with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, but never has been operated, an attempt to obtain th legislature' consent to its lease to the Boston & Maine having failed.

The indictments against Messrs. Mellen, Moseley and Gillett allege conspiracy to induce the investment committees of the two banks to lend a total of $47,000 to the corporation. The notes securing the loans were endorsed by the Hampden Investment Company, organized by Mr. Gillett to finance the construction of the railroad which cost approximately $4,000,000. The investment committee of the East Cambridge Savings Bank is indicted on three counts of conspiracy to lend sums of $20,000, $16,000 and $5,000 to the Hampden Railroad Company. Similar indictments were returned against the investment committee of the Cambridge Savings Bank, the amounts named being $25,000, $22,500 and $20,250.

Alleged Larceny.

Frederick S. Moseley was indicted also on six counts involving the alleged larceny of sums amounting to $112,500 from the banks, and Mr. Mellen was indicted as an accessory before the fact on five of these counts.

Ten other counts allege that Mr. Mellen, Moseley and Gillett, "conspired to steal and did steal," various amounts involved in the transactions with the two banks. Members of the Moseley brokerage firm we reindicted on eight counts charging conspiracy to steal.

District Attorney Corcoran said tonight that the actual amount loaned by the two banks to the Hampden Railroad corporation was only $45,000 but as each of th notes had been renewed several times a separate indictment had been returned for each renewal.

CAROLINA LAWYERS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Cordially Welcomed by Geo. Elliott, Esq.

MONTAGUE CAN'T COME

Judge Walter Clark Will Make Address This Morning—Hon. Rome G. Brown Speaks Tonight. Many New Members.

Welcomed in true Wilmington style by George B. Elliott, Esq., of this city, and featured by the address of the president, Thos. S. Rollins, Esq., of the Asheville bar, in which he reviewed the history of the organization and advocated several reforms in judicial procedure, the 16th annual meeting of the North Carolina Bar Association was called to order in the convention hall of the Seashore Hotel at Wrightsville Beach last evening, shortly before 9 o'clock, with a large attendance of lawyers and their wives and daughters. The response to the cordial welcome extended by Mr. Elliott was made by Zebulon F. Curtis, Esq., of Asheville, in a short and witty address.

Change of Programme.

Thos W. Davis, Esq., secretary of the association, read a letter from Congressman A. J. Montague, of Richmond, Va., in which the distinguished Virginian stated that, owing to the urgent need of his presence in Washington he would be unable to attend the annual meeting. A. W. McLean, Esq., chairman of the executive committee, announced that, owing to the absence of Congressman Montague, the original programme had been changed so as to have the address of Hon. Rome G. Brown, of Minneapolis, Minn., tonight instead of tomorrow morning. A. L. Brooks will make his address tomorrow morning instead of this morning.

Chief Justice Walter Clark, of Raleigh, who arrived last night, will speak at the morning session today on "Reform in Judicial Procedure." Following his address the committee on memorials will make its report.

Many New Members.

The committee on membership reported that 69 new members have already been received at this session and that others will be received today.

While the membership of the association is already over 600, it is the purpose to secure the membership of every practicing attorney in the State and the large increase this year indicates that active work along this line has been in progress.

Besides the address thhis morning by Judge Clark and the address tonight by Mr. Brown there will be an oyster roast at Lumina this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the members of the association, their families and their friends. This promises to be a most enjoyable feature.

Visitors Welcomed.

Mr. Elliott for the local bar association and the people of Wilmington extended to the visitors a most cordial welcome and assured them of his appreciation of the high honor that had been conferred upon him to greet them. Wilmington and the entire Cape Fear section, he said, are noted for the hospitality that has been their pride for generations. He felt that no profession affords more instances of personal friendship than that of the lawyer and that there was no place more fitting for its manifestation than in the Cape Fear section.

He paid high tribute to the profession of the lawyer and declared that it is their minds that is guiding the course of events in this State. Referring to the visit of the editors last week, he said that between the two professions, there have been in this section the dynamic force of the State—the motive force that is guiding and shaping our destinies in the changes that are coming so swiftly in our lives.

Strength of Profession.

The speaker believed that one of the reasons that the lawyer occupies such a high place in the councils of the State is because he talks and lets the world know where he stands. Another element of the strength of the profession, said the speaker, is that the lawyer never admits that he does not know the answer to any given question. It is his business in life to answer questions and he does it.

In conclusion he declared that this is a day of high ideals. These new ideals must be sifted, weighed, and if found sound, enacted into laws for the government of the people. This burden must necessarily fall heavily upon the lawyers of the country and the speaker felt that the opportunity afforded by such a meeting as that now in session cannot but be of value. It was a talk, notable for its sound sense and received a most cordial response from the audience.

The Response.

In a short and witty address, Zebulon F. Curtis, Esq., of Asheville, made the response for the visitors. He used a variety of legal terms blended together in such a way as to make a speech that while smacking strongly of legal procedure was yet "safe and sane."

"I feel sure that in attempting to respond to the splendid address of welcome by the distinguished lawyer from Wilmington," the speaker said, "I have a better cause of action for 'mental anguish' than many of the damage suit lawyers of this Association have had in several months."

In looking over the reports of the various meetings of the Association he had been struck by the fact that most of them had been held either in the mountains or on the seashore. He thought that this is a significant fact for it indicates, said he, that when the

Federals To Be World Champs

WILL CHALLENGE WINNER OF WORLD SERIES TO BATTLE.

Chicago, June 29.—Some team of the Federal League will claim the world's baseball championship this fall.

This announcement, in effect, came today from the office of James Gilmore, president of the Federals. He said the winner of the pennant in his organization would challenge the winner of the world's series, between the National and American Leagues. If this is not accepted—and generally it is conceded it will not be—the winning Federal League club and a team of stars from the remaining teams will play and the world's championship will be claimed by the victor.

The Federal League bases its claim to major league calibre on "newspaper and public recognition." The National and American Leagues, however, are parties to the National agreement and are barred from contesting with so-called outlaw leagues such as the Federal.

A few moments later one of the Reds threw a bat toward the players' bench but his aim was poor and the bat landed in one of the field boxes and fans swarmed on to the field like angry bees. They finally were quieted. Then Mullaney, Miller and Douglass were sent to join Hobilitzel and Herzog for continuing the argument with Umpire Eason. A few moments later Sweeney became angry when Moran piked the second baseman's thumb in sliding to second, and the pair had to be parted. Good was banished early in the game.

RUBE OLDRING

Red McGhee says:

Baseball sure boasts a bunch o' "Rubes." That name is easy on the tubes we use to root an' yell. An' it ain't any handicap. I never knew a Reuben yap who couldn't ring the bell. That Philadelphia champeen team has one Rube who is sure a dream—a husky, blonde-haired lad. It's Oldring, outer garden guard—an' lemme tell you somethin', pard, Cobb can't make him look sad.

In Mr. Shibe's ol' left-field stands they yell an stamp an' clap their hands each day when Rube trots out. They love him there. An' well they may. He's shown an A-1 brand o' play—the same year in, year out. He don't force any circus stuff nor play the grandstand—nix. That's rough. The Rube fields with his head. He pikes the batter, picks the spot where that guy always drives his swat. Then, if he flies, it's Dead.

The guys who tout Frank Baker's bat might give the Rube's a entle pat—it's also quite some stick. It bangs its home-run now an' then an' scores a fair-sized bunch o' men.' I ain't exactly sick. Give Rube the closest up-an'-down an' take his playin' aroun'—you don't find nothin' slack. In case you doubt he's good, just try to bor row, buy or steal this guy from wise ol' Connie Mack.

'Had Pleasant Chat' With Tyrus Cobb

PRESIDENT GILMORE INTERVIEWED GEORGIA PEACH YESTERDAY.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 29.—President James A. Gilmore, of the Federal Baseball League, and Ty Cobb, of the Detroit American League, met today in a hotel here. Rumors that the Federal League officials had made Cobb and offer to jump to the Federal League, were denied by both Gilmore and Cobb.

"We just had a pleasant chat," said President Gilmore, and after a few minutes talk Cobb left to umpire a baseball game. The matter of his joining the Federal League now or at any other time was not raised."

President Gilmore stated that he came here to assist Hal Chase in freeing himself from the injunction obtained by attorneys of the Chicago White Sox which prohibits the first baseman from playing with the Buffalo Federals in New York State.

Pending the outcome of the litigation no attempt will be made to play Chase either in this or any other State, said Mr. Gilmore, who left for Chicago tonight. Cobb left by boat for Detroit.

THEATRICAL

Another one of those incomparable weeks of joy in the way of big and novel entertainment and solid comfort, in the shape of cool breezes and free ventilation, is on at the people's favorite amusement spot, the up-to-the-second Grand Theatre. There yesterday another big week was inaugurated, to the great delight of large audiences. Besides presenting a snappy, beautiful collection of the very latest films, the Grand introduced to Wilmington theatre-goers, as a special and high-priced star, Miss Framan, of New York, an expert prayer of the wonderful Wurlitzer orchestra. Miss Framan plays the Wurlitzer with wonderful human voice effect and comes direct from the conservatory of music conducted by this big company in order to play a summer engagement at the Grand. Her performance will add much to the Grand's entertainment, as she is an accomplished musician and besides rendering overtures from the masters and popular airs, plays the incidental music to the films.

Today's film show is a wonder in every way. Four big reels make up the offering, headed by Mary Fuller in "The End of the Umbrella," seventh of the "Dolly of the Dailies" series. "Broncho Billy's Sermon," is another big one today, headed by the noted Motion Picture actor, Mr. G. M. Anderson.

Lubin offers a great comedy entitled "With the Burglar's Help" "The New Medicine Man" by Kalem is conceded a great picture, both by press and public. The fever stricken Indians are deserted by all but the new medicine man.

At The Bijou Today.

As a topliner for another big day, the popular photoplay house will present today that mammoth and startling dramatic success, "The Baited Trap," a stupendous two-reel Mutual movie that has created a sensation wherever it has been shown. It's a brand new picture, and a brand new story is told in a brand new way. It's altogether out of the ordinary run of motion pictures, and is one of the costliest productions seen here in several weeks. The scenery is some of the most realistic and appropriate that has ever been shown in a motion picture, and the different settings are the work of a master hand. It will be thoroughly appreciated in Wilmington's largest and most comfortable picture theatre today.

A full-reel Rex drama, "The Pursuit of Hate," is a story of society life that will find its chief appeal to the grown-ups. It's a strong dramatic masterpiece, showing a true to life story of how a society woman gives up her husband to a ranch girl. It is enacted in the leads by Lois Weber and Philips Smalley, supported by a big cast of screen stars, which make it one of the biggest single-reel numbers of the week.

A brand new rousing comedy will supplement this bill, bringing the grand total for the day up to four reels.

BRITISH SUBJECTS ARE TOLD TO LEAVE MEXICO

Sir Lionel Carden Advises Them to Leave Now

Fuel Oil Likely to Give Out and Train Service Suspended Which Would Prevent Their Leaving Later.

Mexico City, June 29.—Sir Lionel Carden, British minister, today advised all British subjects temporarily to leave Mexico. He said the shortage of fuel used in the operation of trains was becoming more acute daily and that the trains probably soon would stop running which would make difficult the departure of persons in the interior.

Sir Lionel said he believed it to be his duty to urge all British subjects to leave the capital immediately. He especially advised that the women and children be removed. The minister declared he had no desire to frighten the members of the British colony. He said he had not ordered them to go, such a course only being advised.

Britishers lacking funds to enable them to get out of the country will be furnished with money by the legation as a loan.

The legation was crowded with British subjects today. A meeting of the members of the British colony was called for this afternoon with the object of making arrangements for those who decided to depart.

The Brazilian minister said today that he had no fear of a critical situation arising in Mexico City. He believes conditions will improve and does not intend to remove his family from the capital nor will he advise Americans to leave. The diplomatists so far have failed to follow the example of the British minister who has advised British subjects to leave Mexico City.

In well-informed circles it is reported that Gen. Angel Garcia Pena, who was minister of war in Madero's administration, but is now one of Huerta's commanders, is to be a candidate for the presidency of the republic in the elections to be held next Sunday in that part of the country controlled by th government.

HOUSE VOTES TO REPEAL SECTION OF STATUTES.

Which Prohibits Payment of Accounts to Those Supporting Rebellion.

Washington, June 29.—With n unusual demonstration, the House today unanimously passed a bill to repeal a section of the revised statutes which prohibits the payments of accounts, claims or other obligations against the United States in favor of any one who encouraged or sustained or in anyway faovred the rebellion."

The measure would open claims of various kinds aggregating about $165,000 from West Point graduates who were afterwards officers in the Confederacy.

Representative Graham told the House he had found stowed away on the judicial ycalendar this bill to remove penalties from men who had fought into the South.

"The half century or more which has passed," said Mr. Graham, "has brought together the warring combatants of Gettysburg to weep and cheer in unison on that fateful field. Let's wipe from the statute books the offspring of the feelings which bitter strife engendered."

The measure was passed promptly without a dissenting vote and enthusiastic applause came from both sides of the chamber.

NO AMERICAN INTERVENTION IN SAN DOMINGO REVOLUTION.

As Long As Foreign Life and Property is Respected by Factions.

Washington, June 29.—There will be no American intervention in San Domingo so long as livs and property of foreigners are not recklessly endangered by the contending factions. Administration officials indicated tonight they thought the warring forces in the island republic had been sufficiently warned when the American gunboat Machias used her four-inch guns to quiet the artiller yof President Bordas whic hwas bombarding the rebel town of Puerta Plata.

Four American naval vessels now are in Dominican waters. They carry a sufficient force to guarantee ample protection to foreign interests.

Only a comparatively small number of the republic's inhabitants are said to be involved in the fighting. President Bordas directing the siege of Puerta Plata, is said to command only about 200 soldiers.

Between fighting spells the combatants fraternize. A Dominican gunboat recently destroyed the customs house at Azua, 50 miles west of San Domingo. American officials, charged with collection and administration of Dominican customs, gave warning that such attacks should not be repeated.

Another good crowd of Lumberton people went to Wrightsville Beach on the early train yesterday morning and returned on the late train Sunday evening.

It was determined Saturday afternoon to have a big Fourth of July celebration here, after it had been thought that politics would be the whole show. There will be baseball, different kinds of races, etc. It's going to be a big day in Lumberton, after all.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fore, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Brown, returned to their home in Wilmington last night. Mrs. Fore had been here for two weeks, but Mr. Fore came up Friday night. Mrs. Fore and Mrs. Brown are sisters.

NO ONE TO BLAME

For the Guilford Hotel Fire, Says Insurance Commissioner Scott.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., June 29.—Deputy Fire Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott, who investigated the Guilford Hotel fire of Friday, expressed the opinion that nobody was to be blamed for it; that it was one of those unfortunate occurrences that could not be prevented.

Mr. A. H. Galloway, secretary-treasurer of the company that leases the hotel, yesterday sent a check for $100 to the Greensboro firemen as an expression of the company's appreciation of the good work done by the firemen.

Fireman Ed Greason, who was injured, is getting along nicely and is expected to recover. His face and hands are scalded and his legs bruised and lacerated. George Galloway, the negro porter, who brought down the almost dead body of Mr. Callum and then fainted, is practically himself again.

The hotel is doing business right along. All rooms are in good shape and meals will be served in the dining room this week.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Sol Jenkins and wife to John H. Shaw and wife for $10 and other considerations, lot in Harnett township, on Allen's Lane; New Hanover Transit Company to Carolina State Council, Kinghts of Columbus, for North and South Carolina, lot No. 5 in block 43, Carolina Beach; John E. Taylor and wife to George Laboo, for $50 and other considerations, lot 82 1-2 feet east of Dickinson and 66 feet south of Fanning street, 30x33 feet in size.

Real Wonder-Worker For Wrinkled Faces

Those who have tried all sorts of so-called "wrinkle-removers" in a vain effort to lose those unwelcome traces of age, illness or worry, can scarcely find words to express their delight with the wonderful saxolite formula, once they have given it a trial. The success of this method is due not alone to its marvelous effectiveness—upon the deepest lines and crowsfeet, as well as upon the very fine ones—but also to its surprisingly quick action and its entire harmlessness. Its simplicity and its inexpensiveness are other commendable features, for one needs only dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, and bathe the face in this solution. At once a remarkable transformation is beheld.

It is not only the effect on wrinkles and creases that is so noticeable, but facial contour is remarkably improved and the face looks much younger. One should be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite. The lotion, being so refreshing, is particularly grateful to tired faces these warm, depressing days.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 123

One of the virtues of Editor R. F. Beasley, of the Monroe Journal, is that he's no straddler. His press association address on "The Tyranny of the Status Quo," lines him up as a man who can take a striking attitude without following any lines meandered along by the ordinary trimmer and hedger. Right or wrong, the Monroe editor shows where he stands on some of the forms of old-fashioned standpattery.

HOW IT IS IN THE NATION'S GARDEN SPOT.

This hasn't been our brag year for growing things, but despite the drought all over this garden-spot country, many farmers report that they had fair crops of Irish potatoes and have made good profits as it was. The tremendous demand for food products makes almost any of them a money crop, so the farmers in the Nation's Garden Spot always plant safely if they only know how. The game consists of knowing how to grow a crop of any kind, and then to know when to market and distribute the crop to the best advantage of all the growers. After the crop is made, intelligent distribution assures the profit.

The Georgetown Times tells us that the first experiment of Georgetown county in growing Irish potatoes on a commercial scale has met with success despite the dry weather at a time when the crop most needed moisture. The farmers made a good profit and were so well satisfied with the result that the acreage will be greatly enlarged the next season. When the acreage is increased there also ought to be some increase in the knowledge of systematic distribution.

It is interesting to know that on the whole the season in Georgetown was successful and that "practically every planter made some money," as The Times finds out from the growers. Some of them even made "good money" and the general result can be judged when it is stated that the average crop for the county was 32 barrels per acre, while the average price per barrel was $3.50. Thirty-two times $3.50 shows us that the potato growers picked up $112 per acre At the same time, some growers produced 70 barrels per acre, with a money return of $245 to the acre.

Listen! Land preparation means everything to the successful grower. Our esteemed Georgetown contemporary remarks in a significant way that "almost invariably, where drainage was right, the crop came to profitable maturity," and, as if to profit from experience, the observation is made that "where there were few potatoes to the hill this year the drainage will be improved against the time of the planting next year." Failure in growing crops rests on a cause, and it is the intelligent farmer who discovers the cause and applies the proper remedy for his land.

Besides that, an eye must be kept out for proper fertilization and special attention should be given to the varieties best suited for the soil and the markets. Potatoes ought to be allowed to "come to maturity" as a general thing, but there are exceptions when the market has to be rushed. However, those who know how to buy potatoes prefer the matured product, but not one in a thousand housekeepers know there is a big difference between the mature and the immature stock on the market. There is all the difference in the world.

Naturally and ideally, this tidal country is a potato-growing region but we must not forget that its producing adaptibility is tremendously enhanced by the efficient facilities of transportation reaching the biggest markets in America. The Atlantic Coast Line gives increasing attention to distribution, and be it known that the direct and prompt movement of perishable products right into the consuming centers constitutes one of this section's unrivalled advantages for the industrious and intelligent producer.

When people have a cinch they should fully recognize it, and if we seek to emphasize the unrivalled advantages of this portion of the Nation's Garden Spot, all we've got to do is to simply point out its marvelous producing adaptibilities, its splendid transportation facilities, and its next-door big markets supplying not less than 30,000,000 people. We ought to open our eyes as big as saucers in the completer realization of a cinch that is the premier of them all.

Bion H. Butler says "North Carolina is slopping over with opportunities." Sure, Mike! It's in Eastern North Carolina that we are up to our ears in them and floundering around calling for help to seize them. The thing for us to do is to put on our thinking caps and make a study of our resources so we won't have to take a telescope to see the myriads of opportunities which circle around us unseen and unheeded. For years and years The Star has been on the watchtower along this line, and it is for us to get a magnified idea of the tremendous opportunities conspicuously bobbing around on the flood-tide sweeping over the Nation's Garden Spot.

Going back to potatoes, which is really a big subject, the season's production ought to be doubled. This country already has grown one crop, and as it can grow a second crop as good or better than the first, we should not neglect to plant in July or early in August for a fall crop. The world's food supply is short, but there is no reason why we should let ourselves and the big markets go short on potatoes.

THE STATE BAR ASSOCIATION.

The comely and coming city of Wilmington welcomes the lawyers of North Carolina because they have come here with claims on nothing but her hospitality. On this occasion we have the bar with us, and not against us, and for that reason Wilmington can rejoice and be exceedingly glad. She is playing host to the gentlemen of the bar, and if there is anything that Wilmington delights in it is to have a whole lot of welcome guests who are eminently entitled to the sincere cordiality of the good people of the metropolis of the Cape Fear.

The North Carolina Bar Association met at Wrightsville Beach last night, and will there have its annual convention extending over two days. From all over the State there will come the lawyers from practically every county, and Wilmington knows that they constitute a representative class which is typically representative of the intellectuality of the State. North Carolina has every reason to be proud of its bench and bar, and we are sure the State ought to be grateful to them for the eminent men they have furnished to the State from its earliest history down to the present time. North Carolina's intellectual lawyers have made her famous in every era and they are going to keep on doing so, hence it is a leading class of North Carolinans who are here to receive our greetings.

There is an enjoyable outing here for the lawyers, and their association will spread before them an intellectual feast. Wilmington will spread herself in doing the rest.

COMMUNITY EXHIBITS.

From the Savannah News it is learned that the chamber of commerce of that city has accepted an invitation to make a display of Georgia food products at the exposition of the Boston Domestic Science and Pure Food Exposition to be held in the Massachusetts metropolis this fall. The chamber of commerce heard reasons for and against making such an exhibit, and decided that it would be a good thing for Savannah and for Chatham county.

The cost will be comparatively small, but the Savannah people are satisfied that it will be a paying investment. It will be a good advertisement for the productive resources of South Georgia provided the exhibit will be sufficiently large to cover the great variety of food products grown in such great abundance in this portion of the South.

It would be a good idea for our cities to have a permanent exhibit to be sent abroad when the opportunity offers. An exhibit hurriedly gotten up will not do a community full credit, whereas a plan by which an exhibit can be kept in a completed state from year to year will prove advantageous to the community which keeps it up.

NO FAULT OF BRYAN'S.

The Claflin failure involved liabilities of $34,000,000. The concern tried to borrow more to keep from failing, so that its failure to borrow caused its failure. Where most of us fail is in our attempt to borrow. Some lose all they borrow and others borrow all they lose. The real reason why the big Claflin establishment failed was because it had been losing what it borrowed and had been borrowing on a losing buiness. This is significant in view of the fact that Colonel Bryan had no idea that the Claflin house was borrowing and losing money at about the same time the high financiers were highwaying the New York and New Haven railroad.

General Satisfaction has to put up a constant fight against General Complaint. Generally speaking, General Complaint is a dodgasted old knocker, with a chronic case of sorehead. His army consists of men who are lined up with the sordid motive crowd who permit themselves to be gnawed to the quick by disappointment. A man can't always help it when his name is mud but some men, of their own free will and accord, become A. Grouch.

By the way, while that congressional committee came to the conclusion that Judge Speer was not guilty, it criticised him and thereby refrained from giving him the benefit of exoneration. The judge might order the committee's report spread on the minutes of the courts of his jurisdiction and issue a supplemental order suspending judgment on the committee for contempt of court.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is reported that Frank A. Linney, son of the late Representative R. Z. Linney is grooming himself to oppose Representative Doughton in the eighth district this year. The eighth was formerly a very close district but since Wilkes with her fifteen hundred Republican majority has been transferred to the seventh there is little danger of a Republican being elected if the Democrats go out and vote.—Charlotte News.

The statement that the Department of Justice at Washington is hard at work on many blackmail cases needs explanaion. The Department of Justice is not primarily concerned with blackmail, any more than it is with breach of promise, assault and battery or mayhem. It has been forced into the blackmail business by the White-Slave law, just as The World predicted that it would be. White slavery was a mouth-filling phrase, but there never was enough of it in this country to justify the passage of an act giving the United States jurisdiction over elopements and abandonments Once engaged in the task of regulating the interstate morals of our frivolous and migratory population, it was certain that the United States Government would have plenty of blackmail on its hands. Why should there be astonishment because complaints under the White-Slave law are increasing quarterly by hundreds and that many of them carry on their face unmistakable evidence that they contemplate financial settlements? We live in a commercial age, and adventurous women catch its spirit as quickly as do the men.—New York World.

SOME ECHOES OF PRESS ASSOCIATION.

HOSPITALITY IN PERFECTION.

"No better hosts could be desired than were the people of Wilmington. The beautiful hospitality of the East reaches its highest point of perfection in Wilmington. Every editor was made to feel as if he had returned home, after an absence of many years, to find the friends of his childhood ready to receive him into their arms. Also many there were among the visitors who came away from the metropolis of the East with a new Wilmington indelibly pictured in their minds. Wilmington is not asleep, as some of us had heard from the tongues of her slanderers. Wilmington is wide awake and has the forward look. If there is a city in the State that looks more progressive than Wilmington we have failed to find it. Of old she may have slumbered, but she has passed the eye-rubbing stage now and is off in the race at high speed. Watch out for Wilmington. And also Southport. As for us, we are convinced that Southport is entitled to that coal station, and we shall have more to say on this subject later.

"And here we pause to pay tribute to the Atlantic ocean. After all it was the surf that saved us through three of the hottest days of the year. The ocean is standing pat and our prayer is that it shall stay put until the editors return to Wrightsville."

WILMINGTON AND SOUTHPORT.

The following is an editorial from the Greensboro Daily News, whose editor, Mr. W. A. Hildebrand, attended the Press Convention:

"The Daily News has reported rather fully the developments incident to the meeting of the editors at Wrightsville Beach. Some of the addresses have already been published, while the address of President Graham, of the University of North Carolina, with its fine lesson, and that of President Poe, of the association, are made available to our readers today.

"We shall have more to say about the meeting from time to time, no doubt, but meanwhile we take this earliest opportunity to acknowledge the courtesies shown us. The hospitality of the people of Wilmington was of the abounding kind, agreeably zealous and constantly sustained. Most members of the association have had a long acquaintance with Messrs. Bell, Cowan, Thompson and Clawson, members of the association who served with the reception committee, and to many of the members it was very much like getting home to be with them.

The editors were utterly grateful for the manifold kindnesses received. Moreover, they were obviously impressed with what the people of the lower Cape Fear have to show. Wilmington, as a commercial and financial community has been making most gratifying progress of late years. The people there are modest. Their industrial progress easily transcends and exceeds the shouting of their captains of industry.

The outstanding claims of Southport, her potentialities as a deep water harbor, are already demanding the patriotic consideration of the business interests of the State. The people of the State, we like to believe, have a realizing sense of the very great economic importance of a rate basing port, and it is here that nature points the way. Mr. Taylor, for the citizens of Southport, admirably stated the case.

We have little doubt the editors will lend all the aid possible in the effort being made to focus public attention upon this development.

HOSPITALITY TO THE EDITORS.

Editor E. E. Britton, of the Raleigh News and Observer, who was one of the interesting attendants at the session of the Press Convention last week, published the following editorial in his paper when he returned home:

Dispensed at Wrightsville Beach and at Southport the hospitality which was so graciously bestowed upon the editors of the State at the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association last week was of so marked a character as to make a deep impression upon all who had the pleasure of being present at the annual convention. While the sessions of the association were enjoyable, the many courtesies extended made the meeting one of the most delightful ever held, this being the verdict of members who have been faithful in attendance for years.

The men of the Wilmington press are the ones who were the prime movers in these delightful matters and it was under their direction that the social courtesies of the meeting were extended. In this matter the committee in charge never knew when to stop, for it kept on doing handsome things in a handsome manner, aided and abetted by the public entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The men of the press who were here, there and everywhere in looking after the comfort and pleasures of the visiting editors and their families were Messrs. J. E. Thompson, T. W. Clawson, H. R. Aiken, J. A. Livingston and J. A. Parham, of the Wilmington Star; James H. Cowan and William E. Lawson, of the Wilmington Dispatch, and Benjamin Bell, Sr., once at the head of the Wilmington Messenger. These gentlemen gave hospitality with open hearts and open hands and were aided by the people of Wilmington in royal fashion. The Tidewater Power Company saw to it that no one of the visitors paid any car fare and took part as a host in the electric car and automobile ride, citizens of Wilmington furnishing the automobiles for the trip about Wilmington into the adjoining country and back to Wrightsville Beach.

The closing social events of the convention were the trip down the Cape Fear on Friday, the editors being the guests of Capt. John W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, and the luncheon given at Southport by the Southport Commercial Association, in this latter delightful event the leading spirit being Mr. Charles L. Stevens, formerly of the Newbern Journal. The entire day was one of delight and brought to a close a convention of the editors of North Carolina which will long linger in the memories as one of the very happiest in the list.

No convention of any kind could have been better treated than that of the North Carolina Press Association, and those who made it so happy a gathering are being praised by every one who had the good fortune to attend the meeting at Wrightsville Beach.

GREATEST CONVENTION EVER.

The Charlotte Observer carried the following news story of an interview with Mr. J. P. Cook, of Concord, as he returned through Charlotte from the Press Convention:

Mr. J. P. Cook, editor of The Uplift, Concord, spent several hours in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. R. A. Brown en route home from Wilmington and tended the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association. In conversation with an Observer representative, Mr. Cook stated that the majority of the editors attending the convention would return today, yesterday having been the last day of the convention.

"In my judgment, the 42nd annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association, which was held this week at Wrightsville, was the most enjoyable meeting of the kind I have ever attended," declared Mr. Cook yesterday. "The attendance was large and representative, the arrangements that had been devised for the comfort and pleasure of those present ideal and the papers and discussions indulged in were of exceptional order of merit. The addresses were also splendid and particularly that of Mr. Norman Hapgood, the well known editor of Harper's Weekly, New York. Mr. Hapgood is anything but an orator; his manner is rather awkward and un easy, halting; his gestures are forced and halting and his presence on the platform is anything but pleasing. But with all of this, his address was one of the most interesting I have ever heard. The impression he gave was that of a man with a message and so well did he develop his subject one could not help but be interested and instructed. Mr. Hapgood paid a very high tribute to President Wilson and the Administration; one that was sincere and in no sense exaggerated. He referred to the South and the great development that is ahead of this section and he brought very close home to all the editors present the necessity of joining hands and promoting this development in such a way that it will realize the greatest uplifting of the country."

COUNCILMAN T.W. WOOD WITHDRAWS PETITIONS

Action Taken on Advice of the City Attorney.

Papers Were Not Drawn Properly—Will be Re-Circulated—Mr. MacRae Demanded Copy of Names.

Acting on the advice of City Attorney E. K. Bryan, who held that the papers were not drawn in conformity with the provisions of the bill authorizing a commission form of government for Wilmington and were therefore invalidated, Councilman T. W. Wood yesterday afternoon withdrew his petitions calling upon City Council to call an election for the purpose of determining whether or not the city shall issue bonds in the sum of $150,000 for a municipal electric light plant, and borrow $25,000 wherewith to sink a battery of deep wells for a municipal water supply. The petitions were signed by more than 800 citizens. Mr. Wood stated yesterday that new petitions would be drawn and circulated.

Though of course not influenced by the fact, Mr. Wood's action in withdrawing the petitions followed the filing of a written request from Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, asking to be allowed to obtain a copy of the names on the petitions, together with written opinions from four attorneys in the city to the effect that when Councilman Wood turned the petitions over to the city clerk and treasurer they had been formally filed, and were therefore open to public inspection. Mr. MacRae endeavored Saturday to obtain a copy of the names on the petition and was halted by Councilman Wood, who on the advice of the city attorney that the papers had not yet been formally filed, instructed the clerk not to make the petitions public. Following the filing of Mr. MacRae's request yesterday, Capt. T. D. Meares, the city clerk, took the matter up again with Mr. Bryan, the city attorney, who again gave it as his opinion that the petitions had not yet gone on file. Under this advice, Mr. Meares stated that he would have been obliged to decline to allow Mr. MacRae to copy the names, even had Mr. Wood not withdrawn the petitions.

The bill establishing a commission form of government for Wilmington contains a clause providing that all petitions calling upon Council to call any special election, shall contain, in addition to the names of the petitioners, the street and house number in which the petitioner resides, his age and length of residence in the city and a statement as to whether he has paid his poll tax as required by the laws of North Carolina.

The petitions, as drawn by City Attorney Bryan at the request of Councilman Wood, fulfilled all the requirements of the section applying with the exception that they did not carry any statement from the petitioners as to whether he had paid his poll tax as is required by law.

When this omission was called to the attention of the city attorney he investigated the matter, and then ruled that the petitions had not been properly drawn, and that this fact would invalidate them in all probability. Councilman Wood therefore decided that it would be best not to proceed further with the present petitions, and accordingly withdrew them.

Mr. Wood stated yesterday afternoon that he would have the petitions drawn over, to conform with all the provisions of the law, and would circulate them again, or at least see each signer and ascertain if his name can legally go on the petition. This, he stated, would take several weeks, perhaps several months, to do, but that he had no intention of dropping the matter.

Mr. MacRae's Letter.

Mr. MacRae's letter to Captain Meares, the clerk, asking to be allowed to copy the names on the petition, is as follows:

"June 29th, 1914.

"Mr. Thos. D. Meares, Clerk and Treasurer, City of Wilmington.

"Dear Sir:—Referring to the question as to whether Mr. Wood's petition became public documents when he filed them with you and asked you to check them up and when you under this request actually began to check them up as required by law, I realize that you were acting impersonally and entirely in your official capacity, and I appreciate the courtesies which you extended and your evident purpose to be impartial.

"In this connection I beg to submit the legal opinions of Mr. Marsden Bellamy, Mr. Herbert McClammy, Mr. Woodus Kellum, and a letter from Mr. Thomas W. Davis concurring in these opinions.

"The law, which is to be obeyed by laymen, is supposed to be sufficiently clear for laymen to comprehend; but we may admit that an opinion of the law whether given by a layman or an attorney, is not necessarily the law. To me three points stand out clearly and in these I believe that the public will agree: First, that no law founded on common justice contemplates or permits the use of 'gumshoe' methods; second, that no citizen has a right to make use of your private office or your official services for private ends; third, that when papers affecting public interests are filed with you apparently in accord with the terms of the law there can be no mental reservations, especially after you accept the papers and commence to work on them under the plan as indicated in the law, and the said papers then become public documents, and it is not contemplated that the papers be withdrawn and the contents kept from the public.

"Mr. Wood has had the right to make these documents public at any time, to publish them or to show them to whomever he pleased. He saw fit to keep them under his personal control and supervision; and while he was handling a matter of public interest in a private way; no objection was made to this; but when he filed the documents with you he necessarily abandoned the policy of secrecy. The law does not require Mr. Wood to secure petitions and keep them concealed until he hands them to the City Council; it does not require you to officially assist Mr. Wood in this method of secrecy. You had every right to assume that the public were entitled to see the peti-

MILK TO BE TESTED WEEKLY

New System Effective July 1—Plans for Sanitary Inspection Stores, Hotels, Restaurants, Etc.

Enabled by an increased appropriation for this year, the health department is planning to greatly extend the usefulness of the city laboratory, which is now well equipped for all classes of work, and beginning July 1 a weekly test will be made of milk from all the dairies supplying the local market. The milk will be graded and scored from standpoints of quality and the sanitary conditions of the dairy farms, and results of these scores will be made public.

The health department is also planning to institute a sanitary inspection and graded-score system for all meat markets, grocery stores, ice cream parlors and factories, bottling works, restaurants, lunch counters, etc. These places will be inspected once a month from the standpoint of sanitation, and the results will be recorded according to a scorecard system now being worked out by the health department. This work will be undertaken as soon as the plans can be worked out.

Notices of the new system of milk inspection and graded results have been sent to all dairymen supplying the local market in the form of the following letter, mailed out by the health department:

"June 29, 1914.

"Dear Sir: Beginning July 1, this department will require a sample of milk from your dairy once each week. Icing facilities will be provided at the health department and on ——— between 7 and 10 A. M. please have your delivery wagon call at the office of the health department in the basement of the court house where a sample of your milk or a single package of milk will be taken from your wagon, iced and sent at once to the laboratory for examination.

"All dairies are to be scored both as to quality of milk produced, and as to the sanitary condition of the dairy farm, the health of herds and attendants, and the method of handling and delivery of their products. The results of these scores will be published in the daily papers.

"In addition, the milk from all dairies will be classified as to quality. Class A milk will include only such milk as is produced under conditions required for certification. Class B milk will include all milk from dairies which conform to the regulations and which have standard nutrient value and a constant bacterial count of less than 50,000. Class C milk will include milk produced under regulations with a standard nutrient value, and a constant bacterial count of less than 100,000. Class D milk will include all milk which has a bacterial count constantly of more than 100,000 and les than 200,000, or milk which is produced and handled under such conditions as may be favorable to contamination. Class E milk will include such milk as may be produced which, because of low food value or uncleanliness, is unfit for human consumption in the raw state. These classifications will also be published.

"It is the earnest desire of this department to co-operate with the dairymen in every way and to be of such assistance as may be possible.

"Very sincerely,

"CHAS. T. NESBITT,

"County Health Officer."

COAST TO MOUNTAINS HIGHWAY CAMPAIGN

Will Be Launched at Durham Meeting Next Month

One of Most Important Matters to Come Before State Good Roads Association Convention Early in July.

One of the important matters to come up for discussion at the approaching State Convention of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, to be held in Durham, July 9th and 10th, will be the proposed Coast to Mountains highway, a subject that is of local interest because of the fact that Wilmington has been mentioned as—and rightly should be—the eastern terminus of the highway.

Through the New Hanover Good Roads Association, which is affiliated with the State organization, Wilmington and New Hanover county will probably be well represented at the State convention. The local association was organized the past spring, with Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., as president; W. A. French, vice president, and H. deW. Rapaije, secretary and treasurer.

The following extracts from an article in Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer, appearing under a Winston-Salem date line, will be of interest in this connection:

"The 'Coast to the Mountain Highway,' the link of permanent roads that will connect the traffic of the east with the mountains of the west, which was suggested two years ago, has been given great impetus in this section of the State by the recent appropriation of $30,000 by the Federal government to aid in the construction of a highway from the Guilford county line through Forsyth, Davie and Iredell counties to the Catawba county line. These three counties will within the next year expend $125,000 and more in making this one of the most model stretches of good roads in the State. The promptness with which these counties have acted and the merit of the route selected for this stretch of 79 miles of good road has attracted Nation-wide attention and in the State those interested in good roads, will watch the progress of the movement with interest. The location of this road and the consummation of the plans was given a big boost in the decision of Forsyth and Davie counties to erect a handsome $31,000 steel bridge on the route. The prompt letting of the contract has expedited the matter to the point that a large portion of the work has already been constructed.

"Chairman P. H. Hanes and the other members of the Tri-County Commission having the building of the highway in hand, have received many letter of commendation from many sections of the State upon the progressiveness of the movement. The assertion has been made that it will mean much in the accomplishment of the 'Coast to the Mountain Highway' project.

"This is an important project in the development of the interior section and of no small importance to the coast section. The project has been enthusiastically discussed and advocated by the North Carolina colony at the Nation's capital, especially since the appropriation of $2,000,000 for the development of the North Carolina coast has passed the House and will, without doubt, be passed by the Senate. The appropriation provides means by which the harbors on the Carolina coast will be excelled by none on the Atlantic. This highway will unite this great National enterprise with two other enterprises upon which the Federal government is laying special stress—the National forest preserve and the United States army encampment grounds at Chattanooga, Tenn.

"These two factors, together with the desire of the Postoffice Department to build a highway upon which to test the efficiency of plans proposed to improve the mail service to the rural districts of the various States, has caused the building of the highway in North Carolina to be given serious consideration by the department at Washington.

"At the recent conference of the Forsyth-Davie-Iredell commission with the officials at Washington, after learning that the proposed route in these counties does not parallel the railway and that the route through these counties will penetrate a section in which the mail service is in a low state of development, the officials without hesitation declared that it was one of the most meritorious propositions that has been placed before the department. The absence of selfish motive immediately impressed the officials to a degree that they heartily endorsed the project and pledged their co-operation in the movement.

"The activity of the State Association during the next two or three years is especially demanded by the assurance that the Shackleford bill in Congress, already passed by the House, is certain to pass the Senate also. This bill provides in its present form for an appropriation of $25,000,000 for the purpose of aiding in road construction in the several States. The greatest interest in this bill is being manifested in many Southern States and there is nowhere that aid is more needed than in North Carolina. We are rich in agricultural lands and it is to this character of locality that the road question is the most vital. For this State to come into its own without good roads is impossible. The better the roads the richer the rural districts and therefore the stronger will be the cities.

"Those familiar with affairs in Congress give assurance that the appropriation of $25,000,000 will be made for Federal aid to the States, and under other conditions it might be called a 'pork-barrel' act. It happens, however, that there are conditions to be met by every State sharing in the distribution of this fund. An amount equal to that asked of the government must be put up by the State, and the government also considers the mileage of rural post roads and the population of the States asking aid.

"The 'Coast to the Mountains Highway' will be one of the matters to be discussed at the coming convention of road advocates, and it is expected that the association and its officials outline a policy that will result in obtaining definite statistics as to the route as a whole, and conduct an intensive campaign, State-wide in its scope, and thoroughly arouse every citizen to the point that the movement will have the unbroken support of every citizen when the time arrives to present it for action to the various counties, the State officials and to the departments at Washington.

"Under the proper leadership the State Good Roads Association can materially aid the various counties to secure Federal aid in the construction of this highway as well as others. It is announced that the policy of the National government is to permanently provide this aid until a system of roads will be built that will require a less appropriation for the purpose of maintaining those roads that will combine into a system of National highways. In view of this fact North Carolina should be in a position to enter into the movement at its beginning. It will thereby perfect its road system earlier, and in addition to lending aid to the progress of the State and benefiting every line of industry, it will guarantee that the 'Coast to the Mountains Highway' will be chosen as a part of the great system of National highways."

AT CAMP WHEELER, VA.

System Awakens With Pure Blood

In Mind and Body the Change is Wonderful.

After the depression, the stagnation, the despair over some blood disorder, it is fine to wake up to what S. S. S. has accomplished for you after a few days' use. It puts the nerves and blood in harmony; it arouses the cellular activity of the liver, kidneys, lungs, and other excretory organs to remove from the blood the body wastes that cause nearly all sickness.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to catalytic medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is one of the highest achievements in this line. For many years people relied upon mercury, iodide of potash, arsenic cathartics and "dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure, vegetable S. S. S. is their safeguard.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist without charge, address Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 537 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

MRS. DANIELS MAKES HIT WITH SOUTHERN BISCUITS.

Washington (D. C.) dispatch to the Atlanta Journal of Saturday afternoon:

"When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, N. C., a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four interesting young sons, and their old colored mammy.

"Also a few choice pieces of mahogany from her girlhood home at Raleigh; her family servants, and her recipe for beating biscuit, an indispensable article of food on the daintiest of Southern tables.

"Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capital is typically Southern in many respects.

"Since her husband became a member of President Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, has become one of the best loved women in Washington.

"Though she keeps up all her social engagements and takes excellent care of her four fine boys, Mrs. Daniels finds time, with her husband, to keep in touch with the work they are both interested in at their home town, Raleigh.

"This work is in two hospitals; one for the whites and one for the negroes.

"Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. The ward for the white children is a memorial to a young daughter, Adelaide, who they lost some years ago.

"When the hospital for negroes was built in Raleigh, it occurred to Mrs. Daniels that she would like to equip the children's ward in tht building in recognition of the faithful services of Sophy Liggins, the old mammy who had nursed all of her children, and who is today in the services of the Daniels' family at Single Oak.

"This was done, to the pride and delight of the old servant.

"The four Daniels boys are great favorites in Washington."

The one-step contest last night proved to be one of the most attractive affairs ever given at Lumina, drawing the largest crowd that has been seen at the popular pavilion this season, not even excepting the large attendance at the week-end dance last Saturday night. There were about 20 couples to enter the contest, which was won by Miss Florence Taylor and Mr. Robert Strange, Jr. The contest was managed by Don Richardson, the leader of the orchestra. At 9:45 Mr. Richardson, in a short speech, announced the beginning of the contest and explained how it was to be conducted. From those entering the contest five couples were selected by the judges to continue after the first elimination, each of the five couples being given a white ribbon to indicate that they were to remain on the floor. From these five three couples were chosen, these being indicated by a red ribbon, and from these the winning couple was named.

The first five couples were as follows: Miss Margaret Scott and Mr. Chas. Taylor; Miss Douglas and Mr. Fuller Hill; Miss Florence Taylor and Mr. Robert Strange, Jr.; Miss Virginia Taylor and Mr. M. Woodward; Miss Kate Northrop and Mr. Geo. Clark. The last three named were the couples selected for the final competition.

The judges found some difficulty in deciding which of the three couples in the final contest were the best dancers. They finally arrived at a decision by having each of the couples dance around the floor by themselves. This was the most exciting time of the contest and each of the couples was loudly cheered as they went around the floor.

The judges were Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, Miss Chandler and Mr. Sebrell, of Columbia, S. C. Two handsome cups were given as prizes.

HISTORY OF THE NORTH CAROLINA BAR ASSOCIATION

Annual Address of President Thomas S. Rollins, of Asheville, Delivered at the Opening Session of the 16th Annual Convention of the Association, at the Seashore Hotel Last Evening, in which He Reviews the Past, Present and Future of the Organization—Mr. Rollins Also Touches on the Jury System, Workmen's Compensation Law, Salaries of Solicitors and Other Matters of Timely Interest to the Legal Profession.

The Constitution of our Bar Association provides that the President at each annual meeting shall deliver an address upon some subject to be selected by him, in which he shall make such suggestions to the Association as he may deem wise and proper. It is therefore in obedience to this imperative requirement that I speak to you on this occasion.

Neither the Constitution nor the By-laws, however, stipulate that the address shall be of any perticular length, width, or depth, and I shall therefore avail myself of this benign omission and not trouble you with any lengthy discussion of some intricate legal question. On the contrary, I have decided to talk its Past, its Present and its Future.

Our Association came into being on the 10th day of February, 1899, when a few patriotic attorneys from different sections of the State, in pursuance of a notice theretofore issued, met at Raleigh and perfected an organization known as the North Carolina Bar Association. A Constitution and By-laws were adopted and one hundred and fifty-five attorneys were enrolled as charter members at that meeting. The General Assembly was in session at the time and an Act was immediately passed duly incorporating the association, it being Chapter 335 of the Private Laws of 1899.

The object of the Association, as set forth in Article 2 of the Constitution, is: "To cultivate the science of jurisprudence, to promote reform in the law, to facilitate the administration of justice, to elevate the standard of integrity, honor and courtesy in the legal profession, to encourage a thorough and liberal legal education, and to cherish a spirit of brotherhood among its members."

No organization could be formed with objects more lofty and noble. It was the exalted character of the men who had the shaping and forming of association in its infancy that is responsible for its high ideals and its noble purposes. Many of that patrictic band of charter members, I regret to say, have passed over the river to the Great Beyond and among the number are recorded such brilliant legal lights as Judge James E. Shepherd, Governor Charles B. Aycock, Charles B. Busbee, Fabius M. Busbee, Thomas M. Argo, Robert T. Gray, Thomas N. Hill, Dr. John Manning, Charles F. Warren and Judge J. C. McRae, and others whose names, for the sake of time, are omitted on this occasion.

Judge Platt D. Walker was elected the first President of this Association and his address on the occasion of the first annual meeting, held at Morehead City in June, 1899, outlining the duties and mission of the Association, was a masterly effort, and a source of inspiration to all who were fortunate enough to hear it. That address has been a chart by which we have been constantly guided as we sailed over the rough and tempestuous seas of the past fifteen years, and whenever we have found ourselves in unknown and uncertain waters we have unconsciously referred to it as the true compass from which we have taken our bearings as to the true standards of Truth, Honor, Courtesy and Integrity.

In discussing the duty of lawyers to use their influence in securing the enactment of wise and useful laws, Judge Walker said:

"We have been endowed with better advantages and supplied with better opportunities than the laymen for the performance of this task. Our daily practice and experience is ever presenting to us the deficiencies and imperfections of the law where they exist, and by reason of these special qualifications it is a sacred duty we owe to the State and its people to use our learning and experience in procuring the adoption of good laws and the greatest certainty and efficiency in the administration of justice. We can never hope to establish a perfect system of laws or jurisprudence, but by sufficient and well directed effort, if aimed and inspired by a consecrated purpose, we can at least set up one, which if correctly administered, will insure to each and every citizen the just and equal protection of the law."

For fifteen years we have faithfully labored to facilitate the administration of justice and to cherish a spirit of brotherhood among our members. We have accomplished a great deal have done much of which we can justily be proud. The congested condition of our court dockets has in a large measure been relieved by the increase in our judicial districts from twelve to sixteen and from sixteen to twenty within the past fifteen years, and our Association, in a large measure, is responsible for this increase of courts and judicial districts. We have also been instrumental in having many useful measures enacted into law, as well as instrumental in having the statutes of the State revised and codified; and, last but not least, we have finally succeeded in having the hitherto iron-clad rules of the Supreme Court modified and amended and a new set of rules adopted more flexible and elastic in their nature and more in keeping with the sound principles of law and justice. I am glad to report that our Supreme Court in revising the rules called upon me as President of the State Bar Association to appoint a committee of five lawyers to make suggestions as to the changes desired. I cheerfully and promptly appointed five of the leading lawyers of the State on that committee and they co-operated with the members of the Supreme Court, with the result that we now have an excellent set of rules entirely satisfactory to attorneys and litigants. So much for the past.

Let us now briefly consider the present and the future.

We have increased our membership from one hundred and fifty-five to over six hundred. More than fifty percent of the active practitioners in the State are now members of this association. With a few exceptions, our membership includes most of the leading attorneys in every county in the State, and the day is not far distant when it will be a reflection and reproach upon any attorney not to belong to the Association. At present there are a number of attorneys in each judicial district who have never seen fit to cast their lot with us, but we must continue our efforts until every worthy and honorable attorney in the State is a member of our Body. When that time comes we can wield a more powerful influence in elevating the standard of our profession and in weeding out those undesirable who are occasionally admitted to practice. As a strong, active, well organized body, we will be a potent factor in securing the passage of laws useful and beneficial to the citizenship of our State. We will bring about more reform in the law and greater simplicity in the administration of justice. We will convince the people of the State that the courts are established for a definite and certain purpose; that cases will be tried upon their merits and not upon technicalities; that delays are iniquitous and that speedy trials shall be had in all civil and criminal causes. When we succeed in implanting these facts in the breast of every true North Carolinean, we will then command, and not until then, the entire confidence and absolute respect of the people, regardless of religion, politics or previous condition of servitude.

I earnestly recommend that each member of this Association consider himself appointed a committee of one to secure at least one new member for the Association before our next annual meeting. We owe it to ourselves, we owe it to our profession, and we owe it to our Association to give at least a little of our time, talent and energy in building up a strong aggressive organization, the sole object of which is to facilitate justice and to bring about closer ties of friendship and affection between its members.

So much concerning the association. Let us now briefly consider the laws and the mode of procedure and ascertain if any improvement can be made.

The Jury System.

We all agree that trial by jury is of such ancient origin and is so firmly imbedded in our organic law, and is such an essential part of our free government, that the American people will be slow to abandon it and substitute some other method. This system has stood the crucial test of time and experience and is pronounced by all as the best and safest method of trial yet devised by the brain of man. I fully agree with Hon. Joseph H. Choate when he said, in addressing the American Bar Association in 1898:

"The jury system is the best method yet devised for the determination of disputed questions of fact in the administration of justice. The truth is that the jury system is so fixed as an essential part of our political institutions; it has proved itself to be such an invaluable security for the enjoyment of life, liberty and property for so many centuries; it is so justly appreciated as the best and perhaps the only known means of admitting the people to a share, and maintaining their wholesome interest, in the administration of justice; it is such an indispensable factor in educating them in their personal and civil rights; it affords such a school and training in the law to the profession itself; and is so imbedded in our constitutions which, as I have said, declare that it shall remain forever inviolate, requiring a convention or an amendment to alter it, that there can be no substantial ground for fear that any of us will live to see the people consent to give it up. For the trial of persons charged with crimes, I do not believe that any material alteration of its character will ever be thought of."

Other great lawyers have sung aloud their praise of the jury system, and none have more clearly expressed themselves on the subject than Hon. Jeremiah S. Black, at one time the greatest advocate in the State of Pennsylvania, when he said:

'We do not assert that the trial is an infallible mode of ascertaining truth. Like everything human, it has its imperfections. We only say that it is the best protection for innocense and the surest mode of punishing guilt that has yet been discovered. It has born the test of a longer experience, and borne it better than any other legal institution that ever existed among men. England owes more of her freedom, her grandeur and her prosperity to that, than to all other causes put together. It has had the approbation not only of those who lived under it, but of great thinkers who looked at it calmly from a distance, and judged it impartially. Montesquieu and DeTocqueville speak of it with an admiration as rapturous as Coke and Blackstone."

The jury system is as permanent and enduring as the Rock of Gibraltar. For centuries it has been the medium through which justice has been meted out in all civilized and enlightened nations of the globe. The system everywhere has been substantially the same, but there has been some diversity in its application. Some countries and most of the States of the union require an unanimous verdict of the jury, while a different rule prevails in some jurisdictions. The law of this State requiring an unanimous verdict frequently results in great hardships, miscarriage of justice, unnecessary delays and heavy costs. Hardly half a dozen important criminal and civil cases can be tried without a hung jury. I recall within the past few months a number of instances where civil causes have consumed from one to three weeks and resulted in a mistrial, notably, Gilbert vs. Hopkins, in the Federal court at Asheville, Bank vs. McArthur and others, in the Federal court at Raleigh, and Railway Company vs. Power Company, in the Superior court of Henderson county, and many other cases of less importance, the names of which it is unnecessary to mention. The result was absolutely a nullity. The entire term of the court was taken up without the accomplishment of anything. The cases had to be retried at a tremendous cost and expense. Other litigants, who had causes to try, were necessarily delayed and the delay in some instances amounted almost to a denial of justice. I recommend that the present law be amended so as to require only a three-quarter verdict, or a five-sixths verdict, in civil actions. This would unquestionably greatly facilitate the administration of justice and result in the saving of much time in the trial of our dockets. No longer could one eccentric or dishonest man hang a jury, nor could such a person hold the jury together for a day or two, thereby entailing personal discomfort to the members of the jury and extra trouble and expense to the county. What sane and sound reason can be advanced against this change? In the legislative halls a majority is all that is required to enact the laws under which we live, and in the Supreme court of the United States and in the Supreme court of every State in the union, a majority of the members of the court is all that is required in the interpretation of the law. Why then should not a majority of the jury, say, three-fourths, have the same right to determine the facts in civil causes? It is not an entirely new and novel proposition. Majority verdicts in civil actions are authorized by law in the State of Ohio, in the State of Washington, and in the State of Minnesota, and in one or two other States, and in every instance the change has resulted in a decided improvement in the administration of justice. On the 17th instant I addressed a letter to Hon. Chester L. Caldwell, secretary to the Minnesota State Bar Association, and a prominent attorney of that State, and requested him to write me his views of the workings of the five-sixths verdict rule in Minnesota. He wrote me on the 19th instant, as follows:

"St. Paul, Minn., June 19, 1914.

"Hon. Thomas S. Rollins, President North Carolina State Bar Association, Asheville, N. C.

"Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th instant relative to the woryings of our five-sixths jury law. This law was enacted at the 1913 session of the Legislature, being Chapter 63, General Laws of Minnesota for 1913, and is as follows:

"'An act to permit five-sixths of any jury, in civil actions or proceedings, in courts of record to render a valid verdict after twelve hours' deliberation.

"'Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

"'Section 1. Five-sixths of jury may render valid verdict after twelve hours' deliberation—In all civil actions or proceedings in any court of record of this State, after twelve hours' deliberation, the agreement of five-sixths of any jury therein shall be a sufficient and valid verdict; the deliberation of the jury shall be deemed to have commenced when the officer taking charge of the jury has been sworn, and the clerk shall enter such time in his records.

"'Section 2. All concurring jurors to sign verdict: Where the verdict is agreed to by the full membership of the jury the foreman only shall sign the verdict, when less than the full number agree on the verdict the same shall be signed by all the jurors who concur therein, and the clerk of said court shall enter on his minutes the number of said jurors concurring in said verdict.

"'Section 3. Inconsistent acts repealed: All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

"'Section 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1913.

"'Approved March 13, 1913.'

"The effect of the law has been to greatly reduce the number of disagreements. Both attorney and client seem to be satisfied with the operation of the law and I have not heard a word of disapproval.

"The class one would expect most likely to object to or denounce it, are the public service corporations and their counsel, but since your letter was received I have talked over the telephone with several and in particular with the attorney for the City Railway Company, a defendant in more personal injury litigation than all others combined, and he gave it his unqualified approbation. The only criticism of the lawyers on the other side is that the deliberative period in the law should be cut from twelve to six hours. On the whole I believe the law meets with general approval.

"Yours very truly,

"CHESTER L. CALDWELL,

"Sec. Minnesota State Bar Ass'n."

I am informed that the majority verdict rule permitting three-fourths of the jury to return a verdict in civil actions has proven equally satisfactory in the States of Ohio and Washington and has met with the cordial approval of the bar and the people of those States.

The amendment to the constitution of Ohio, authorizing the rendering of a verdict by the concurrence of three-fourths of the jury, was adopted in 1912 by a majority of 41,733 votes.

Jury Commissioners.

While we are discussing the jury system, there is another important change I desire to submit to you for your careful consideration. The present method of drawing the juries and revising the jury list is very unsatisfactory, to say the least. The county commissioners are poorly paid. Their duties are so numerous and laborious that they do not have time to give this important matter the attention it merits and deserves. The county commissioners have charge of laying out new roads, of building and repairing the roads and bridges, the levying of taxes, the support of the poor, the control of the county chaingang, and a hundred other matters too numerous to mention.

Their salary is two dollars each per day and the service usually rendered is on a parity with their compensation. The fountain of justice starts with securing competent and intelligent jurors and each and every name should be carefully and maturely considered before it is placed in the jury box. The county commissioners do not have time and opportunity to do this. I recommend the adoption in this State of the same law that has proven so beneficial and satisfactory in a number of the other States in the union; that is, that the matter of selecting jurors and revising the jury list be placed in the hands of two jury commissioners from different political parties, appointed by the resident judge of each judicial district, to serve for a term of eight years. With high-class men as jury commissioners, charged solely with this responsible duty, the administration of justice would be greatly clarified.

Workmen's Compensation Law.

In this enlightened and progressive age it is our duty to our fellowman to greater safeguard his interest. The employe should not be exposed to the risks and dangers of careless and incompetent fellowservants and then be deprived of a recovery in case of an accident on account of their negligence. Why should the employe assume the risk of injury from the negligence of a fellow servant, any more than the master should assume the responsibility for his acts and conduct. The employe is engaged in the prosecution of the master's business and is engaged in advancing his interest and the master is more able to stand the responsibility and there is no just reason, in my opinion, why the laboring man should be called upon to bear any of the master's burden's in this respect. Almost every State in the union has abolished the fellow servant rule in so far as railroads are concerned, and many of them have also abolished it in mining, quarrying, and other dangerous occupations. Why shouldn't it be abolished? There is a strong sentiment in this country in favor of workmen's compensation acts, and already a large number of States have enacted such laws holding the employers of labor responsible for all accidents and injuries, regardless of negligence except in cases of intentional injury on the part of the servant.

In 1905 Indians passed an employer's compensation act holding corporations liable for accidents, but in 1907 the Supreme court of that State declared the law unconstitutional, except as to public service corporations, as imposing burdens upon private corporations not imposed upon individuals or partnerships engaged in similar business under like circumstances and conditions.

A few years ago the State of New York passed a somewhat similar law holding corporations responsible in damages for all accidents and injuries, regardless of negligence, but the Supreme court of that State likewise declared the law unconstitutional upon the ground that it deprives corporations of their property without due process of law. A new Act has recently been passed permitting the employers of labor to voluntarily accept the benefits of the law by filing notice of their intention to be governed thereby, and this act has been upheld by the courts.

England, France and Germany were pioneers in extending the protecting arm of the law to the great army of wageearners, and they each have a Workmen's Compensation Law fair to the servant and just to the master. A great many of the States have also adopted similar laws, and there is a strong tidal wave extending from ocean to ocean and from the great lakes to the gulf, in favor of following in the way blazed by our Mother Country. North Carolina should not be a laggard in this great onward movement and the time has now come when a fair and equitable Compensation Law should be adopted in this State. It would be better for the employers of labor and better for the servants who do the work, and I hope to see the day in the near future when North Carolina joins the other progressive States in this important matter.

Salaries for Solicitors.

The question of placing solicitors upon salaries has been frequently discussed both in this Association and in the Legislative Halls of our State, and our Association has a number of times unqualifiedly gone on record in favor of the proposition. It is a just movement and should be brought to a successful termination. I renew this recommendation in the strongest and most positive terms, believing as I do that the placing of solicitors upon salaries would tend strongly to elevate the courts and elliminate a great deal of petty and useless criminal litigation.

Having briefly given you my views on the mission of the Association, and my recommendation as to the Legislation that should be enacted into law, I now, in conclusion, desire to again express to you, individually and collectively, my grateful appreciation of the high honor you conferred upon me in electing me President of this Association.

WEST VIRGINIA GOES DRY ON FIRST OF JULY.

Laws Against "John Barleycorn" Are Most Stringent.

Charleston, W. Va., June 29.—State-wide prohibition of the liquor business in West Virginia becomes effective Tuesday midnight. It brings the total number of States in the prohibition column up to nine.

With West Virginia added, the list will be: Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee West Virginia. These nine States of total prohibition territory plus the local no-license area, make up 2,132,726 square miles in which 46,029,750 persons or nearly 50 per cent. of the country's population live according to the latest figures of the prohibition leaders.

The 92,000 majority with which the people of West Virginia accepted the dry proposition was relatively the largest ever given by any State. It was approximately two to one for State-wide suppression of the liquor business. It was a surprise even to the prohibition forces, who were indebted largely to the determined stand which many of the large employes took in favor of their cause. The State has a population of 1,221,119 by the census of 1910.

The mandate of the Legislature, embodied in the Yost bill, for the enforcement of the new law, beginning July 1, departs in many respects from the methods hitherto tried along this line. The chief features center about the creation of a commissioner of prohibition, whose particular business it will be to see that by tomorrow midnight some 1,200 liquor-selling places in the State have disposed of their stocks and that thereafter all persons shall be punished by law if they keep liquor for sale.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES—RESINOL CURED

Atlanta, Ga., April 24, 1913.—"My face was covered with pimples which defied creams, soaps and cosmetics. They were a source of constant humiliation to me, coming in contact with many strangers as I do, as a business woman.

"By the time I had finished a cake of Resinol Soap and half a jar of Resinol Ointment, my skin was soft as velvet, and as smooth. My friends were stunned, and everyone asked me what I had done. When I told them, I think they hardly believed it, for the transformation was simply wonderful.

"Since then I have been using Resinol Soap and shall never be without it again, for I have learned the delights of a clear, soft, beautiful complexion that may be attained by its constant use." (Signed) Miss E. P. Gaddis, 284 South Pryor St.

LEVER BILL IS SENT TO SENATE BY HOUSE

As Substitute for Measure Adopted by Former.

Should Senate Not Agree to the Substitution, Bill Will be Taken Up in Conference Between Both Branches.

Washington, June 29.—The House today substituted the Lever bill for regulation of cotton exchanges through prohibitive taxes for the Senate measure proposing regulation by means of prohibiting the use of the mails and the telegraph for so-called gambling transactions.

The House put the bill through under suspension of the rules by a vote of 84 to 21 and sent it to the Senate. If the Senate fails to agree to the substitute the differences will be taken up in conference.

Senator Smith, author of the Senate bill, is now campaigning in South Carolina, and consideration of the substitute may be delayed until his return, though Senator Smith, of Georgia, or some other Southern Senator may call it up in the meantime.

Both the Senate and House measures aim to regulate alleged evil practices on the cotton exchanges which the cotton producers contend keep down the price of cotton. The Senate bill through the Postoffice Department and the Inter-State Commerce Commission's jurisdiction over the telegraph, would prohibit the transmission of quotations and lists of sales of cotton that did not comply with the requirements as to standardization prescribed in the bill. Both bills would regulate, though they would not prohibit transactions in futures.

The House bill relies on the government taxing power, instead of inhibitions on the mail and the telegraph, proposing a tax of $5 a bale on contracts that do not comply with the requirements.

No tax would be imposed on what are regarded as legitimate contracts. The measure would require that contracts must be in writing; must specify the quality of cotton involved in each transaction and give names and addresses of buyers and sellers, with the basis grade of the cotton involved.

Other sections would provide that the cotton must be ot or within the grades specifically established by the Secretary of Agriculture and in case other than basis grade is delivered, the differences above or below the contract price must be the actual commercial differences and not the differences arbitrarily fixed by the cotton exchanges, the commercial differences to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture by comparison of prices of five spot cotton markets.

A lively debate preceded the vote on the bill. Democratic Leader Underwood favoring the measure, pointed out that the whole proposition rested on the proposal that Congress should either suppress or regulate the cotton exchanges of the country.

"Whatever particular power you use to enforce the law," he said, "is a secondary proposition, but there is no better power in the government than the power to tax, which is in this bill.

The Scott bill was intended to wipe out the cotton exchanges. The Lever bill is intended to regulate them. In two different Congresses I have supported legislation along the lines of the Scott bill and they have died in committee in the Senate. A similar bill at this time would meet a similar fate."

"I believe that the practices of the New York Cotton Exchange cost the Southern producers annually $100,000,000," declared Representative Lever, of South Carolina, chairman of the Agriculture committee, and author of the bill. The purpose of this bill is to eliminate the practices which constitute such an enormous burden.

Representative Wingo, of Arkansas, insisted upon legislation along the lines of the Scott bill.

Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, sought to introduce, as a substitute for the Lever bill, a measure of similar intent framed by officers of the National Farmers' Union, but was ruled out of order. The Aswell bill would levy a tax of 20 cents a pound.

Representative Hughes, of Georgia, opposed the bill, because, he declared, certain features were detrimental to cotton growers.

Progressive Leader Murdock, of Kansas, also opposed the bill. He favored the Smith bill.

Representative Sims, of Tennessee, spoke against the measure.

tions after they came into your hands. Prior to my being notified of any objection by Mr. Wood and prior to any adverse legal opinion being given, I was permitted to make copies of certain of these lists as public documents. The copies became mine regardless of the question of whether Mr. Wood made a mistake in the technical procedure of filing the documents. I left the copies in your care pending the securing of legal opinions on the subject; and as these legal opinions submitted herewith confirm my views, I make now the formal request that these copies be delivered to me, as I consider that they are necessary in order to give me time to protect the vested rights of the stockholders of the Tidewater Power Company against a secret, personal campaign which has been given only a one-sided and partial view of the questions under consideration. Mr. Wood's desire for secrecy must come from the belief that there will be little public sentiment in favor of his measures when all of the facts are known. The citizens of Wilmington, if I know them, do not want sneak legislation and will not be parties to it. As an official of the Tidewater Power Company it is my duty and purpose to protect the company from being ambushed by Mr. Wood.

"I want to make it clear that I consider time and full publicity essential in protecting the interests of both the city and the Tidewater Power Company, which in this case I believe to be entirely mutual; and my purpose in writing this letter is to preserve and protect the legal status of the Tidewater Power Company.

"Very truly yours,
"HUGH MacRAE."

HE WANTS LEGALIZED STATE-WIDE PRIMARY

"Duke of Brunswick" Comes Out Flat-Footed.

"Honrny-Handed Ton of Soil" in Washington—Watts Wanted Proxies of State Committeemen—Coast Guard Bill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 29.—George H. Bellamy, "the Duke of Brunswick," came to town last night and today gave The Star correspondent an interview in which the "Duke" comes out flat-footed for a legalized State-wide primary. Not only that but the "Duke" declares that unless the Democratic party takes such action the party is due for a fall such as overtook the party of Jefferson in the dark days when the Populists rode rough shod over the State.

"The only way to save the State from a repetition of the 1892 to 1896 episode in politics," said Mr. Bellamy, "is for the Democratic party to adopt a State-wide legalized primary for all political parties.

"The people, not the politicians, want a primary. I have been converted to the idea of the primary for the nomination of all candidates for office, and it is just as sure to come to North Carolina as the sun is due to shine tomorrow, the opposition of the politicians notwithstanding."

Watts Wanted Proxies.

It was learned today that Collector A. D. Watts remained on the job at Statesville while the State Executive Committee was in session last week, but the colonel was not idle. The colonel was at work. A man who was here today stated that the collector was very busy collecting, or rather trying to collect, proxies of those members of the executive committee whom the colonel did not expect to attend the meeting. The gentleman in question made the statement that Colonel Watts wanted very much to get his proxy and he wondered why because the Statesville patronage hero failed to put in his appearance when the committee met.

Vote on Coast Guard Bill.

Solicitor Abernathy believes that he will get a vote on the coast guard bill before the present session of Congress adjourns. Representative Small today circulated a petition which was liberally signed asking Representative Underwood to take up the bill during this session. Mr. Underwood stated on the floor of the House Saturday that the coast guard measure was one of the bills which should have the attention of Congress this year. It is of great interest to the eastern part of North Carolina.

Hammer Wins at Last.

Attorney General McReynolds told Senator Overman today that he had decided to allow District Attorney Hammer to move his office from Winston-Salem to Asheboro, Mr. Hammer's home town. Several months ago when McReynolds learned that Assistant Attorney General Graham had given Mr. Hammer permission to move the office to Asheboro he raised a "rough house" around the Department of Justice. Mr. McReynolds stated at that time that there was no reason for the office going to Asheboro except for the accommodation of Mr. Hammer. He stated that it would be a great inconvenience to the public if the office of district attorney was not maintained at some Federal court town and overruled Graham.

He now goes back to Graham's original order. It is effective July 15.

Opinions of Attorneys.

The opinions of the attorneys referred to in Mr. MacRae's letter are as follows:

June 27th, 1914.

"Mr. Hugh MacRae, City.

"Dear Sir:—I herewith transmit to you copy of a letter which I today wrote to Messrs. Herbert McClammy and Marsden Bellamy acking their opinion as to whether the petition of Councilman Wood has been legally filed, and, if so, whether any citizen has a right to inspect it and take a copy.

"I also hand you their reply giving their opinion upon the question, in which I fully concur.

"Yours truly,
"THOS. W. DAVIS."

"June 27th, 1914.

"Messrs. Herbert McClammy, and Marsden Bellamy, City:

"Gentlemen:—I desire that you examine and give me your opinion as to whether the petition filed by Mr. Wood for municipal election for bonds for a lighting plant has really been filed and if so, whether any citizen has a right to examine it and take a copy. I understand that the petition has been turned over to the city clerk and treasurer.

"Yours truly,
"THOS. W. DAVIS."

"Wilmington, N. C., June 27, 1914.

"Mr. Thomas W. Davis, City.

"Dear Sir:—We have your favor of the 27th in which you request our opinion upon the question as to whether the petition filed by Councilman Wood for an election for bonds for a lighting plant has been really filed, and if so, whether any citizen has a right to examine it and take a copy.

"We understand that Councilman Wood has secured a petition from a number of citizens requesting a municipal election for bonds for a lighting plant and that the petition was delivered to the city clerk and treasurer for examination to ascertain if the same was in due form and according to law.

"Our opinion is that whenever any paper affecting the public interest as prescribed by the charter of the city of Wilmington has been filed with the city clerk and treasurer of the city it then becomes a public document, and as such is subject to examination by any citizen and tax-payer who desires to inspect the same.

"We are also of the opinion that the city clerk and treasurer can only exercise authority over documents coming into his hands in his official capacity as prescribed by the charter, and we understand that the petition is in his hands for the purpose of checking the same in accordance with the charter and is therefore filed and a public document.

"Yours truly,
"MARSDEN BELLAMY.
"HERBERT M'CLAMMY."

In addition to the above, Woodus Kellum, Es., also gave it as his opinion that the petitions had been formally filed and were open to public inspection.

EVENING "JOY RIDE" HAS SERIOUS RESULTS

Prominent Young Man of Asheville is in Jail

Charles Sorrells Held Without Bail on Charge of Criminal Assault —Chauffeur Is In Prison —Augusta Woman.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., June 29.—A Sunday afternoon "joy ride" developed unexpected features and had serious results here today when Charles Sorrells, a prominent young business man of Asheville and a member of a well known Western North Carolina family, a married man, was held for the criminal term of the Buncombe county Superior court without bail on a charge of criminal assault, while Fred J. Wadford, who drove the machine, was sent to the same court under bond of $3,000 to answer to a charge of aiding and abetting in the commisison of the crime.

Mrs. Ernestine Hooper, who came to Asheville more than a year ago from Augusta, was the prosecuting witness in the case, the evidence being to the effect that she was wronged. Walter Hill, arrested on a charge of being an accessory to the alleged crime, was discharged, while the other member of the automobile party, Miss Lula Barnes, a recent arrival at Asheville from South Carolina, was used as a witness in the case.

Evidence submitted at the hearing in the court of Magistrate B. L. Lyda was to the effect that the two couples and the chauffeur left Asheville Sunday afternoon at 7:30 o'clock, and went to a point near Azalea, that at this point, Mrs. Hooper asked to be allowed to return to Asheville and that Sorrells, her companion, drew a pistol from his pocket and refused to allow her to return. The chauffeur, she swore, stated that his machine was out of order and that the return trip could not be made. Hill and Miss Barnes left the scene, it is alleged, and the chauffeur, after promising to protect Mrs. Hooper, went about 30 feet from the car, the alleged crime being committed in his absence.

association assembles for deliberation it shall be under circumstances calculated to inspire the members to greater effort to uplift the profession in North Carolina. Quoting from song and from scripture, the speaker showed how every great inspiration had for its source either the mountains or the seashore.

He had found that many speakers, who had delivered responses had taken themselves seriously, but he had in mind nothing of the kind. All that he should say should be purely "obiter dictum." He felt that the keynote of the present meeting would be progress and that it would accomplish much in this direction. He wanted to see a movement inaugurated by which the public would have a higher estimate of the profession.

President's Address.

Following the address of welcome and the response, President Rollins made his annual address, which is published in full on another page. He stated that he had departed somewhat from the usual rule, and instead of discussing some intricate legal questions had chosen as his subject, "The Past, the Present and the Future of the Association." After giving a brief history of its existence, he showed that today he occupies a prominent place in the affairs of the State, and has over 600 members. He also touched on several matters of interest to the profession, among these being the jury system and the workman's compensation law. He also advocated salaries for solicitors. The address was well received and the speaker was heard with the greatest interest.

The report of the membership committee was read by L. R. Vasser, Esq., of Lumberton. The chairman of the committee is Judge J. C. Crawford, of Raleigh. The names of the new members received are as follows: John A. McLean, Jr., Fayetteville; Donald F. Ray, Fayetteville; John A. Narron, Smithfield; R. R. King, Jr., Greensboro; W. B. Snow, J. W. Bunn, and J. W. Bailey, Raleigh; Lewis G. Cooper, Greenville; Robert H. Dye, Fayetteville; Clifford Frazier, Greensboro; Terry A. Lyon, Fayetteville; E. F. Young, Dunn; E. J. Wellons, Smithfield; J. R. Barker, Benson; W. Lennon, Lumberton; W. L. Mann, Albemarle; J. J. Parker, Monroe; Norman A. Cocke, Charlotte; Alex. H. Graham, Hillsboro; Junius J. Goodwin, Lumberton; Robert W. Strange, W. A. Schulken, J. B. Schulken and E. M. Toon, Whiteville.

A. W. McLean, Esq., of Lumberton, read the report of the executive committee. The principal matter coming before the committee was that of selecting the place for the meeting and arranging a programme. On account of the inability of Hon. A. J. Montague to attend the convention, he announced that the committee had made a slight chage as above stated. President Rollins announced the following committees:

New Officers—W. D. Pruden, chairman; J. S. Manning, Frank S. Spruil, O. H. Guion and H. F. Seawell.

Publications — Julius C. Martin, chairman; Frank Thompson and C. B. Mashburn.

COTTON MARKET TURNED EASY

After Showing Considerable Strength During Early Trading—Closed Steady.

New York, June 29.—After showing considerable strength during today's early trading the cotton market turned easier under realizing before liquidation but closed steady net unchanged to six points higher. Sentiment seemed to be more or less unsettled in the late trading, owing to advices from Washington that the Lever bill had passed the House, unconfirmed reports of good rains in Oklahoma and the more optimistic showing of one of the private crop reports published during the early afternoon. There were five private crop reports. One was by a Memphis authority, making the condition 78.6, another Southern report making the condition 78.3 and a decrease of 1.7 per cent. in acreage. A Chicago firm placed the condition at 75.8 per cent. and an acreage decrease of three per cent A local report showed a condition of 77.7 per cent. and an acreage decrease of two per cent. These reports which were issued before noon were taken as indicating a July bureau on Wednesday showing a condition well under the ten-year average of 80.7 but a report of 80.1 issued later in the day modified sentiment somewhat in this connection.

The market opened steady at an advance of three to eight points in response to relatively firm cables and reports that spinners were buying more freely in the English market. The early advance carried active months about 12 to 17 points net higher, with July leading the upward movement on continued covering, chiefly against sales of August or later deliveries. There was some European and Southern buying here, but offerings increased on the advance of some 28 points from the recent lower level, for new crop positions. Prices showed reactions of some 10 to 12 points at the close.

Cotton futures closed steady:

SMALL DECLINE IN WHEAT

Prospect of Heavy Movement of Winter Crop Dominated Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, June 29.—Prospect of a heavy movement of the new winter crop dominated the wheat market today, but not until after a buying flurry, due in part to unfounded rumors of the discovery of black rust. The market closed steady at a decline of 3-8 to 7-8c, compared with Saturday night. Corn and oats both suffered a net loss of 1-2 to 7-8c. In provisions the outcome was 5 to 12 1-2c advance.

SMALL DEALINGS IN STOCKS

With Two Exceptions Business Was the Smallest Since 1888 for Any Full Day.

New York, June 29.—With two exceptions—July 11 and November 24th, of last year—today's business on the stock exchange was the smallest of any full day since the memorable blizzard of 1888, when New York was cut off from most of the world's markets. Transactions for the session amounted to 69,000 shares.

The movement ranged from irregular to heavy. The standard shares reflected the abnormal dullness to an unusual degree, some of them remaining unquoted for long intervals. In the special group a late spurt in Continental Can common and preferred, which rose 4 or more points and a decline of 2 points in General Motors, were almost the only features of the day.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,480,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call.

CURES PIMPLES EASILY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company have done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of the unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince everyone of its merits, Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what is claimed, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

PHOTO © 1914 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Salem, Mass., June 29.—This famous old city of witches, one of America's oldest seaports, has started bravely to dig away the ruins of its fire horror, which claimed several lives, wiped out over three square miles of the city and caused a property loss of about $10,000,000. Relief committees are at work and outside aid is pouring into the city. The 10,000 persons left homeless by the conflagration are being cared for in various ways. Fortunately most of the old landmarks famous in New England history were spared. The accompanying illustration shows some of the homeless persons watching flames devouring their dwellings.

TRUST MEASURES ARE DENOUNCED IN SENATE

Borah, of Idaho, Criticises the Trade Commission Bill.

Senators Lewis and Cummins Defend the Administration Measures Against Attack—Trusts to Blame for Conditions.

Washington, June 29.—Efforts to control monopoly by a Federal commission and the pending Administration Trade Commission bill were denounced in the Senate today by Senator Borah, of Idaho. Senators Lewis and Cummins defended the measure.

Senator Borah declared that the Democrats "instead of trying to get the few men who have organized the great monopolies of this country" were passing a law that would bind down all business.

"We already have centralized the control of the railroads and the control of the banking system in the hands of Federal commissions," he said. "Only a short time ago we were forced to name on the Inter-State Commerce Commission a man whose views, if they were followed in the fixing of rates, would impose a burden of millions upon the people of the country. The members of the banking board have been named, and they believe in a central bank and are connected directly wit hthe great business interests of the country. When all of these are centralized and a board is vested with the wide discretion given by the bill, there will be only one fight in politics—to control these commissions."

Senator Lewis said that the conditions brought about by the organization of trusts had forced the pending bill.

"I would not subscribe to Federal regulation," he said, "were I not forced to it by conditions which necessitate some guardianship for the citizens against monopoly, and some guardianship for State and Nation against revolution and anarchy."

Senator Lewis discussed the "psychology" of present business conditions and denounced the "monopolists," who, h said, "posing as financial leaders" had fostered it. He declared three of these "great financiers" had delivered identical speeches deploring business conditions in different parts of the country on the same night.

Raleigh, June 28.— The Raleigh city commissioners have placed an order for a fine new fire engine to be run by gas, the engine being of the most modern type. By putting in this engine the necessity of putting direct pressure on the water mains will be eliminated, and the accompanying very great danger of bursting of the mains thereby cutting off the water entirely, while the fire rages with the firemen powerless to combat its spread. The engine will be delivered at once.

NATION-WIDE CONFERENCE

Of City Officials to Discuss Public Utility Problems.

Philadelphia, June 29.—A nation-wide conference of city officials to discuss the various phases of public utility problems will be held in this city, this fall in response to an invitation sent to the heads of many municipalities by Mayor Blankenburg, who has suggested an offensive and defensive alliance to secure the best possible rates for the consumer from the companies which furnish electricity, gas, water and transportation.

Favorable responses to Mr. Blankenburg's communication have been received from the heads of several large cities.

The proposed plan provides for the formation of a public utilities research bureau which would secure information to be used by the cities and other consumers in preparing complaints to be submitted to the various public service commissions.

—The contract for making the plans of a new Lutheran church at Cameron, S. C., has been awarded to Mr. H. E. Bonitz, the well known architect of this city. The edifice will cost $15,000.
